Ancient Wisdom for a Modern World: Jewish Ethics & Driverless Cars

Driverless cars are a fascinating new technology, which will both save countless lives as well alleviate the traffic on our daily commutes. However, questions still remain as to how this new technology will be programmed to make the tough ethical choices that we human drivers make everyday. Despite this technology being beyond the rabbis' wildest dreams, our tradition has much to add to this conversation. Join me as we examine several of the ethical dilemmas this new technology will face, and as we take a deeper look at some Jewish texts it will become clear that the ancient ethical wisdom of our tradition is just as applicable today as it was then.

COMMUNITY NEWS

How to Engage with the Other: A Discussion of an Approach to the Israeli/Palestinian Conflict with Yoav Peck and Fulla Jubeh
Saturday, 3/4 from 7:30-9:00pm at Town Hall, Seattle

Tickets available at Brown Paper Tickets to reserve a FREE seat: <http://www.brownpapertickets.com/event/2697036>

Yoav Peck is the co-Executive Director of the Sulha Peace Project, a group of Israelis and Palestinians who meet regularly "to encounter the other in our full humanity." Recognizing the mutual fears, alienation and suspicion that exist between Israelis and Palestinians, the Sulha Peace Project brings together such diverse factions as soldiers, stone throwers, young professionals, academicians and laborers. Fulla Jubeh, a leader at Sulha, is an actress and a medical clown who uses her clowning for resistance as well as for bringing light to terminally ill children at Hadassah Hospital. Tickets available at Brown Paper Tickets to reserve a FREE seat: <http://www.brownpapertickets.com/event/2697036>

D-Generation: An Exaltation of Larks

Sunday, 3/5 from 3:00pm at University Prep Theater, 8000 25th Ave NE, Seattle

A full-length theater piece based on stories collected at 20 care facilities and written collaboratively by people with late-stage dementia. The work is performed by three puppeteers (the caregivers) and five puppets (the residents of a care-facility). Audiences are transported into a strange and all-too-familiar world that touches most of us. "D-Generation" explores the rich creative potential and ability to communicate that exists in people with late-stage dementia. <http://www.brownpapertickets.com/profile/977629>
