ANNOUNCEMENTS & UPCOMING PROGRAMS

Imagining an Anti-Racist Jewish Future Next Shabbat, 7/21 at 1:15pm in the Beit Midrash

Every year on Tisha B'Av we commemorate the destruction of the temple. Out of and in spite of that destruction, Jews have built an expansive lineage of ritual and tradition, learning and meaning; we've re-imagined and created Jewish futures. In a time of soul-sucking politics leeching at our senses of clarity and power, we're compelled to ask: how can we re-imagine a collective future grounded in our Jewish heritages and agency while actively uplifting the agency of people targeted by systems of oppression? What does an anti-racist Jewish future look like? How can visioning and building this future as a community serve as a re-construction of our sacred temple? Join Jews Undoing Institutional Racism, with the voices of Mira Klein and Talya Gillman, for a Shabbat of examining the intersections of Jewishness and anti-racism, guided by centuries of Jewish creative imagination.

10:00pm Ma'ariv, Havdalah, Eichah, and Kinot
(lamentations)

Sunday, July 22

7:45pm Mincha (Torah reading, Haftarah, Tallit and Tefillin)

8:30pm Learning

9:35pm Ma'ariv

9:42pm Break Fast

Our rabbis taught that one of the reasons for the destruction of the Temple was "sinat hinam," senseless hatred amongst Jews. Our rabbis also taught that the Messiah will be born on Tisha B'Av - suggesting that out of this destruction, there is also the potential of redemption, and reconciliation.

It is traditional on Tisha B'Av to refrain from eating, drinking, engaging in sexual relations, bathing and wearing leather shoes. The study of religious texts is limited to those which enhance and reflect the day's mood such as the books of Lamentations and Job and other texts referring to the destruction of Jerusalem. Going to work, using money, driving and other restrictions applicable to Shabbat and festivals are not applicable to Tisha B'Av.
